Dear Wayne,

At yesterday's Hayle Harbour Advisory Committee meeting I announced the fact that you were on long term leave from work due to a serious illness.

It was the unanimous wish of the Committee that I write to you and express our concern that you have been taken ill, our very best wishes for your recovery and expression of our profound respect for the highly professional way in which you chaired this committee and carried out your consulting work.

It was clear that you are highly respected by all those with whom you have worked and, additionally, you have made many friends.

With best personal regards,
